

Press Release

Contacts:

David Ginger , President
Alliant National Title Insurance Company
2101 Ken Pratt Blvd., Ste. 102
Longmont, CO 80501
303.682.9800, ext. 200

Cathie Beck
Public Relations
303.241.0805 (mobile)

For Immediate Release, June 15, 2010

Alliant National Title Insurance Company Adds New, Top-Shelf Agent Resources

Independent Agents afforded unparalleled support and services

LONGMONT—Alliant National Title Insurance Company, a unique title insurance underwriter that partners with Independent Agents to improve their competitive position in the marketplace, is pleased to announce that the company added four new Agent Resource Services to its existing, robust cache of supportive opportunities for its nationally based network of over 115 Independent Agents.

The company recently signed partnerships with Corporate Behavioral Analysts (CBA), TITAN, TriNet and MidPoint.

- CBA offers management and sales workshops that cover Targeting New Sales, Financial and Operational Management, Employee Performance and Developing New Leadership Skills;
- TITAN offers Independent Agents a national referral network service in a proprietary software application;
- TriNet offers HR outsourcing services; and
- MidPoint affords agents the opportunity to assist clients nationwide, no matter the Independent Agent's location.

“Alliant National is very proud of the partnerships we have built with these companies on behalf of our Independent Agents,” says Alliant National President, Dave Ginger. “Because

Alliant National is dedicated to supporting, educating and providing the very best opportunities for our Independent Agents, we can and do seek out equally high caliber companies that help our Independent Agents do business.

“These companies have all met demanding and strict criteria to be part of the Alliant National network,” he adds. “It is with great pride that we can bring this level of resources and services to our agents.”

Alliant National’s mission is to protect property owners’ investment by providing secure title insurance delivered by the finest Independent Agents available. Alliant National provides a partnership environment with its agents that improves the accuracy, efficiency and timeliness of its products, while improving the knowledge base of its agents, and offering the best title products and services possible.

“These resources are like nothing else an agent could access alone,” says Robert J. Lindley, III, President of Denver’s Canyon Title Insurance Company. “We are thrilled to have the services and support Alliant National’s Agent Resource Services provides. Alliant National Agent Resource Services help us conduct better business — for our clients and within our offices. It is win-win — across the board.”

For further information about Alliant National Title Insurance Company’s products, services or independent agents, contact David Ginger, Alliant National Title Insurance Company President, at 303.682.9800, ext. 200, or visit www.alliantnational.com .

About Alliant National Title Insurance Company

Alliant National Title Insurance Company’s mission is to protect property owners’ investment by providing secure title insurance delivered by the finest independent agents available. Moreover, Alliant is a unique title insurance underwriter that partners with independent agents to improve their competitive position in the marketplace. Unlike other underwriters, Alliant offers independent agents the ability to expand their business, reduce their costs and risks, and improve profits within a network of like agents in a non-competitive partnership. In true partnership form, Alliant provides an environment with its agents that improves the accuracy, efficiency and timeliness of its products, while improving the knowledge base of its agents, and offering the best title products and services possible. For further information, contact Phyllis Mulder at 303.682.9800, ext. 400, or email at dginger@alliantnational.com . Visit www.alliantnational.com for additional information.

###